

Preparation for the Practice Supervisor and Assessor Role

Programme September 2026-27

Do you support learners completing practice placements? Would you like to know more?

We all remember our first day on placement; being made to feel welcome was vital to becoming part of the team. Practice placement is essential for professional development. A reflection of our interprofessional working and changing educational opportunities, practice supervisors and assessors are essential in supporting the professional development of the future workforce.

These interprofessional study days will help you to develop an understanding of the practice supervisor and assessor roles (NMC 2018; HCPC 2017). These are interactive days so come prepared to share your knowledge and experience. This means you will require a camera and microphone on your PC in order to complete the training.

Pre-requisites

Both days are available to all Health and Social Care Registrants. It is relevant for all practitioners supporting learners in the workplace. The Practice Supervisor Day must have been completed prior to attending the Practice Assessor Day

What will you gain from the study days?

Day 1: Practice Supervisor

- How to provide an effective practice learning experience
- The role of the practice supervisor
- Supporting interprofessional learning
- Coaching as a learning strategy
- Providing feedback and contributing to assessment

Day 2: Practice Assessor

- Assessment strategies
- Quality assurance processes
- Fitness for practice
- Facilitating learning for assessment

Please note delivery is online, using a combination of facilitated sessions and self-managed learning, information will be emailed to you before the day.
